NOTICES REGARDING MEAT INSPECTION.BRANDING DRY SALT PORK.

Referring to the instructions in Service and Regulatory Announcements of September, 1916, under the caption "Branding carcasses, cuts, organs, and meat food products," hereafter the hot branding of dry salt pork cuts of 2 pounds or more in weight, with the skin attached, which are shipped from official establishments unsmoked, will not be required. However, all such cuts shall bear legible marks of inspection before being permitted to leave an official establishment, unless consigned to another official establishment for further processing.

SALT USED IN PREPARING MEAT AND PRODUCTS.

Inspectors in charge of meat inspection are requested to report to the Washington office full data covering the sources of all salt used in any manner in contact with meat or products in establishments under their supervision. PARAFFIN NOT TO BE APPLIED TO SAMPLE CONTAINERS SUBMITTED FOR APPROVAL OF LABELS.

Referring to instructions under the caption "Sample labels should be free of unnecessary material" in Service and Regulatory Announcements for June, 1916, page 49, it has been found impracticable to apply satisfactorily the stamp of approval to paraffined cartons, paper tubs, and similar containers. It will therefore be necessary, before paraffining the containers in question, that sufficient copies be withheld for submission to the Washington office for approval. Notice is hereby given that after May 1, 1917, copies of the containers which have been coated with paraffin will not be approved.
